ANGER MANAGEMENT FOR TEENS

The City of Carson's Anger Management for Teens (AMFT) program is a court and probation approved six-week after school series. The classes focus on learning appropriate management of anger and behavior in: school, the community, in relationships, and in the home; all from a life skills perspective. The classes meet once a week – in quarterly tracks – at the community center. A Youth Service Officer, or select facilitators, conduct classroom sessions.

Minor's can be referred by parents, schools, law enforcement, courts, and the probation department.

Ages: 12 – 17 years old
Day: Tuesdays from 4:30 – 6:00 p.m.
Fees: Resident: $30.00 per series
Nonresident: $40 per series
