

Explanation of Checklist Judgements:

- XII(a). No Impact. The adoption of the updated Housing Element will not in itself induce substantial population growth in the area. As required by State law, the Housing Element is designed to address the housing needs estimates forecasted for the City of Carson for this 8½-year planning period. The population growth estimated for this housing element is consistent with the housing growth estimated in the Carson General Plan. New housing development on existing and available vacant land and within the parameters of housing densities established by the Land Use Element will not induce substantial population growth beyond that estimated by the General Plan.
- XII(b). No Impact. The adoption of the updated Housing Element will not result in the displacement of substantial numbers of existing housing, necessitating the construction of replacement housing elsewhere. The City is largely built out with most residential development consisting of infill development.
- XII(c). No Impact. The adoption of the updated Housing Element will not result in the displacement of substantial numbers of people, necessitating the construction of replacement housing elsewhere. The City is largely built out with most residential development consisting of infill development. One principal objective of the element is to facilitate housing production for future residents of the City. No aspect of the project involves the displacement of any number of people.

Explanation of Checklist Judgements:

- XIII(a). No Impact. The adoption of the updated Housing Element will not in itself result in substantial adverse physical impacts associated with the provision of new or physically altered fire protection facilities. Impacts associated with new fire protection facilities resulting from the anticipated growth and development of the City have been adequately addressed by policies in the Carson General Plan.
